

"Finding Success in Teamwork!"

When participating in group, every member of the team has a responsibility to the group and the project. If each member does not participate or contribute in a positive way it can have an adverse effect on the teams success. Different scenarios may cause individuals to take on different roles based on their comfort level of the project. By understanding your role within a particular team, you can develop your strengths and manage your weaknesses as a team member, and improve how you contribute to the team success!
